

Mr. Matsunaga is currently a Manager in Cybersecurity Systems Engineering and Threat Research Analysis at the Naval Air Warfare Center, Weapons Division, China Lake, California. Over his 18-year defense acquisition and contracting career, he has held technical, acquisition, and contract management leadership positions supporting Navy aircraft platform development, integration, test, and evaluation programs for the Navy and as a Corporate Contracts Manager for a Small Business Defense Contractor. He is a 2012 graduate of NCMA's Contract Management Leadership Development Program.