

ACS Middle Level Chemistry Day

(These sessions are open to all. One does not need a ticket to attend these sessions.)

Middle School Chemistry Day

Sponsored by the American Chemical Society

Middle School Chemistry—Big Ideas About the Very Small

Friday, December 13, 8:00 AM–1:30 PM

Room 3A, Washington State Convention Center

Come to one, two, or as many sessions as you like during this day of activities and information for teaching and learning middle school chemistry. Staff from the American Chemical Society will introduce participants to the free online resource middleschoolchemistry.com. Each of the four sessions will include hands-on activities and explanations from the website that participants can easily incorporate into their teaching to support their current textbook and curriculum. Handouts of the session activities will be available for all participants.

Click here for a list of sessions.